

Wisconsin Standards for Theatre Resources & Webinars

The Wisconsin Standards for Theatre were adopted December 10, 2018, by State Superintendent Tony Evers. The new theatre standards (full version) and resources are available online at <https://dpi.wi.gov/fine-arts/theatre/education-standards>. The standards highlight theatre-specific performance indicators through two strands: Theatre Performance and Theatre Production. Each of these strands uses the National Core Arts Standards artistic processes--Create, Perform, Respond, and Connect--to support learners in developing their skills and knowledge in theatre.

For additional learning about the standards and resources, consider attending the online webinars. These webinars are facilitated by Wisconsin Standards for Theatre writing team members Kristi Ross- Clausen and Adam Jacobi and WI DPI Fine Arts & Creativity Education Consultant, Julie Palkowski. STANDARDS

Theatre Education

The Wisconsin Standards for Theatre have several resources to check, including a lesson plan template. Resources for the standards are available within the Wisconsin Standards for Theatre website. Check the Theatre Lesson Plan Templates. Educators can use the drop-down areas and type in their lessons.

Dance Education

The Wisconsin Standards for Dance Writing Committee will have a draft of the standards available for public review at the end of January. Watch for this news at <https://dpi.wi.gov/fine-arts/dance> and within the @WisDPIArtsEd twitter feed. Submit your feedback to the upcoming survey.

Art & Design Education

Art & Design will start its review in early 2019. Look for an upcoming survey online to share your feedback about the Wisconsin Model Academic Standards for Art & Design in early February 2019.

Music Education

The WI DPI Wisconsin Standards for Music is online for use, along with resources. Standards sessions continue to be scheduled within the Professional Development site. Register online.
